C Những điều cần lưu ý

- Pre-Contract Review
 - Please ensure you thoroughly read the product description and the draft of the insurance policy before signing the contract.
- Proportional Compensation for Multiple Contracts
 - If you hold other insurance policies (including mutual aid contracts) that cover the same risks as this contract, compensation will be paid proportionally.
 - This applies when the total compensation liability, calculated independently for each contract as if no other contract exists, exceeds the actual loss amount.
 - In such cases, claim payments are distributed based on the ratio of the compensation liability of each respective contract.
- Risks of Replacing Existing Contracts
 - Canceling an existing insurance contract to sign a new one carries certain risks.
 - Your new insurance underwriting may be rejected, premiums may increase, or coverage details may change.
 - Specific coverage limits and details will vary depending on the special terms and conditions you select.
- Cancellation Refund and Pure-Protection Policy
 - The cancellation refund from an existing contract is funded by a portion of your paid premiums.
 - This pooled money is used to pay out claims to other subscribers facing unexpected accidents and to cover the insurance company's operating expenses.
 - Consequently, your cancellation refund may be significantly less than the total premiums you have paid, or there may be no refund at all.
 - This specific product is a pure-protection (extinguishing) insurance policy, meaning there is no maturity refund when the policy expires.
- Depositor Protection Act
 - Under the Depositor Protection Act, this insurance contract protects the sum of the cancellation refund (or maturity payout) and other payments up to 100 million KRW per person.
 - This limit is aggregated across all protected products you hold with this specific insurance company.
 - Separately, accident insurance claims under this company's protected products are also protected up to an additional 100 million KRW per person.
 - Exception: Protection does not apply if the policyholder and premium payer is a corporate entity.
- Privacy Notice
 - The company strictly restricts the collection, use, inquiry, or provision of your personal information without explicit consent from the policyholder, insured, or beneficiary.
 - Exceptions apply only when strictly required by relevant laws for the conclusion, maintenance, or payout of this specific insurance contract.
 - Exception: To process the contract and claims efficiently, the company may share personal information with other insurance companies and related organizations, provided they obtain your prior consent and comply with relevant laws.
- Insurance Dispute Resolution
 - For any consultations, complaints, or disputes regarding your insurance, please contact the KB Insurance Customer Call Center (1544-0114).
 - If you remain dissatisfied with the resolution process, you have the right to file a civil complaint or request dispute mediation.
 - Requests should be directed to the Financial Consumer Protection Center of the Financial Supervisory Service (Call: 1332 without an area code, or visit <http://www.fss.or.kr>).
- Withdrawal of Subscription (Cooling-Off Period)
 - Policyholders maintain the right to withdraw their insurance subscription within 15 days from the date of receiving the insurance policy.
 - Upon successful withdrawal, all paid premiums will be fully refunded.
 - Exceptions where withdrawal is strictly prohibited:
 - Contracts exceeding 30 days from the subscription date.
 - Contracts exceeding 45 days for policyholders aged 65 or older who subscribed via telephone.
 - Contracts with a total insurance period of 90 days or less.
 - Contracts executed by professional policyholders.
- Quality Assurance System
 - Policyholders may demand the cancellation of the contract within 3 months from the establishment date under specific administrative failures.
 - These include: failure to receive a copy of the terms and conditions or subscription form, lack of personal signature/seal on the form, or failure to receive an explanation of important terms.
 - If canceled under these conditions, the company will refund all paid premiums plus prescribed interest for the holding period.
 - Exception: If the contract was concluded digitally via a virtual store (cyber mall) under the Framework Act on Electronic Commerce, providing a physical copy of the subscription form may be legally waived.
- Payment Restrictions
 - The payment of insurance claims may be restricted or entirely denied.
 - This is subject to predefined payment limits, specific exclusion clauses (exemptions), and other contractual conditions.
- Duty of Disclosure Before Contract
 - When subscribing (or during a health check-up for applicable contracts), the policyholder or insured must truthfully disclose all known facts requested on the subscription form.
 - This is legally defined as the "Duty of Disclosure Before Contract" (equivalent to the "Duty of Disclosure" under the Commercial Act).
 - Failure to strictly comply with this duty will result in the refusal of claim payments or the immediate cancellation of the contract.
- Obligation to Explain
 - KB Insurance and its soliciting agents are legally obligated to provide a comprehensive explanation of this product.
 - Subscribers must ensure they receive and fully understand this explanation prior to finalizing their enrollment.
